Rutgers University
Outside Employment Form Instructions for Faculty and Academic Administrators

July 1, 2014 – June 30, 2015 (Current Fiscal Year)

Each Rutgers regular salaried faculty member\(^1\) and regular salaried staff member must fill out an outside employment form when requested by the University.

These instructions are for the outside employment form for regular salaried faculty and for academic administrators.\(^2\) Regular salaried staff members fill out a different Outside Employment Form.

The form should be used to report all non-Rutgers paid outside employment for the prior fiscal year (July 1, 2013 – June 30, 2014). To the extent foreseeable, the form should also include expected outside employment activities for the current and ongoing fiscal year (July 1, 2014 – June 30, 2015). Note: it is understood that any report of expected outside activity for the current and ongoing academic year is subject to change. New faculty members and new academic administrators do not have to report outside employment in which you engaged prior to your employment at Rutgers. Activities conducted in a scholarly capacity should not be reported on this form (see below).

Licenses
You should disclose on this form if you hold a professional license from the State. Rutgers collects this information because of a State requirement. However, because Rutgers is not in the Executive Branch of State government generally these activities have not been viewed as creating a conflict.

Outside Employment

Outside employment that should be reported on this form is any paid work for which the faculty member or academic administrator\(^2\) is compensated by a source other than Rutgers (including, part-time employment, self-employment, consulting or serving on the board of a company).

\(^1\) Regular salaried faculty includes all tenured, tenure track, non-tenure track, and clinical faculty. Not included within this group are teaching assistants, graduate assistants, co-adjutants, post-doctoral fellow, casual hourly employees, and part-time lecturers.

\(^2\) Academic administrators are tenured members of the faculty who are currently not in the faculty bargaining unit because they perform academic administrative duties.
Faculty Scholarly Capacity Activities should not be reported on the Outside Employment Form.

Faculty may receive payments for honoraria or expense reimbursement from third parties for activities conducted in a scholarly capacity (such as payments from third parties associated with giving a presentation or lecture). Those activities should be reported annually on the Rutgers Annual Disclosure Form for Payments and Expense Reimbursement from Non-University Sources for Acting in a “Scholarly Capacity.”

For more information on the distinction between “outside employment” and payments for acting in a “scholarly capacity” please visit the university’s Ethics Website Frequently Asked Questions.

Conflict with University Employment
The primary obligation of every Rutgers employee is to the university. It is the responsibility of all Rutgers employees to avoid actual or potential conflicts of interest. Please refer to the Rutgers Code of Ethics, the Rutgers Plain Language Ethics Guide and the university Ethics Website for guidance as to what constitutes a conflict of interest.

The university does not set any limits on the amount of compensation a university employee can receive through outside employment. Nor does the university set an absolute limit on the amount of time an employee can spend on outside employment. However, faculty who engage in outside activities more than 5 days a month must seek approval from the University for these activities and must report on them twice a year (University Policy 60.5.8, Sections J and K).

If any employee engages in any outside activity that is so time-consuming as to interfere with his or her obligations to Rutgers, there is a conflict of commitment. The form asks for information concerning the amount of time devoted to outside employment because this is a gauge of how significant the outside employment is and can also indicate whether the potential exists for a conflict of commitment.

You will state on this form whether income from an outside employment activity is $5,000 or more during a reporting period.

An employee with a nine month contract has no potential conflict of commitment issue regarding time spent on outside activities during the summer and need not seek approval when such activities take more than 5 days a month during the "summer." Nonetheless, it is still possible for outside employment during the summer to be a conflict of interest with university work and therefore all outside employment should be reported on this form including the "summer."

When in doubt about the applicability of this policy to any activity ask your chair or immediate supervisor for advice.
Submission of Forms

New Faculty and new Academic Administrators should submit signed forms during New Employee Orientation.

When requested, existing Faculty should submit signed forms to their chair or dean. The chair shall forward forms to the appropriate dean who, if applicable, will forward to the Chancellor. This official shall forward forms to the Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs.

When requested, existing Academic Administrators shall submit signed forms to the Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs, or, if appropriate, the Chancellor, who shall forward the forms to the Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs.
